Any eause that will not bear this discussion will be sure to die at last, and it had as well encounter its fate now.

Far from it, as we all know.

The want of discussion and fair deliberation produced this rebellion. A resort to the sword instead of discussion has led to all our calami-Which she invites her friends and the public to call an tics. Freedom was never lost by its legitimate exercise. It is only in danger when its main support, free discussion, is repressed. Indeed, that is itself a sacrifice of freedom.

We must postpone for a day or two the publication of the debate on the Colfax resolution to expel the Hon. A. Long, in order to give room to other matters. This debate takes a wide range, going into first principles -the right of free speech, the right of revolution, &c. These are tine subjects for argument and declamation. The freedom ot our opponents is licentious, and ought, therefore, to be restrained. Even If these restraints are not quite justifiable, they can be looked at with great indulgence, being intended for good. It is agreed that the press may be li-THE ONLY COMPLETE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE centious, and that speech may be, and heuce there is room for difference of opinion. Virginia, when her school was ont of power felt rebellious, and passed the resolutions of 1798, which didn't mean secession or rebellion exactly, but had a strong squiuting that way. The other States belonging to the dominant party were shocked at the incipient treason of Virginia. Not long afterward Virginia got power, and New England was out in the cold. > The New York Times thus lectures Congress: We tell these men at Washington that pas sion is making them mad it is an absolute ufainat on that has seized them. Their words strike upon the ears of the people like the gibberish of Bedlam. Where have the senses of Congressmen gone that they don't realize the terrible burdens that rest upon the people, and the fearful dangers that confront the Government? Do they easi themselves loyamen, and yet play these fantastic tricks? By their delault, the prices of everything that sustains life are rapidly mounting. The cur-rency is gradually turning into worthless Inch by inch, foot by foot, the Gov ernment moves on, straight before the eyes of trainent moves on, straight before the eyes of its gnardiens, toward the bottomless pit of bankrnptcy—yet distant, but nnless they act, inceltable. Not an arm do they yet raise to save it. If they had bnt done the duty they were put to do, the credit of the Government would still be resting on its old foundations. They have neither done it, nor made any ra-tional effort to do it. It is not missoriune but guilt, that rests upon them; not failure simply, but faithlessness.

The financial mismanagement has been most clearly in the Treasury Department rather than in Congress. The greatest error committed in Congress has been in earrying out Mr. Chase's recommendations-in obeying him like little children, without due examination of the subject like men. That's what's the matter.

SPICY-WHAT A BUSTON GIRL WANTS -The editress of the Boston Olive Branch, having received a communication from Nashville, Tenn., inquirlng whether some female printers could be obtained there to go to Nashville, replied as follows: Every girl in Boston who is old enough to work in a printing office, or any other office, has a lover, whom she would be just as likely to trade off for a Tennessee articless she would lo swap him for a grizzly bear. The idea of a Boston girl, who goes to operas, patronizes Julien's concerts, waltzes once a week, eats icc eream, rides in the omnibus, wears satin slip pers, and sometimes kisses the editor, going to Tennessee, txcept she goes as the wile of one of your first citizens (editors excepted), is truly ridiculous. Would not a girl in a dress, pintalettes and shiny gaiter be well trudging through the mud and mire of Nashville, to an old roost of a printing office the walls of which are covered with posters offering rewards for runaway niggers, while In one corner of the room two old darkies are jerking away at a Ramage press, and in the other the editor squirting to over the floor? Sixth (old Fourth) Ward School.—In. ed him to.

3. A white, red, and blue flag was displayed company with the SuperIntendent and one of the Trustees, we spent a portion of an afteruoon, last week, in this school.

In the Male Primary Department the boys of one of the classes exhibited a good degree of proficiency in adding columns of figures upon the blackboard. Recess occurring soon after we entered, we left and visited the Female Secondary Department.

We heard classes read in Goodrich's Fifth and Third Readers. There was a distinctness of enunciation, a well-placed emphasis, and a freedom from the usual tone and rapid manner of school reading, not often found among pupils of their age. We cheerfully praise them for their manner of reading that difficult piece, 'The Poor Man's Garden."

This class, in Grade IV., we believe, solved, quite readily, questions in Stoddard's Mental Arithmetic selected by the Superintendent One bright-eyed little girl at the head of the class, without the least hesitation, solved the following question: "How many chestnuts will pay for 9 walnuts, if 7 chestnuts are worth 10 2-7 walnute?" We give the solution in the language employed by her:

10 1-7 walnuts equal 72-7 walnuts. If 72walnuls are worth 7 chestnnts, 1-70f a walnut is worth 1-72 of 7 chestnuts, which is the same as 7-72 of one chestnut; and 7-7, which is one walnut, are worth 7 times 7-72, or 49-72 of a walnut, are worth 7 times 7-72, or 49-72 of a walnut walnut, are worth 7 times 7-72, or 49-72 of a walnut wal chestnut, and 9 walnuts are worth 9 times 49-72, which are 49 8, or 61/2 chestnuts.

ARRESTED FOR SELLING CLOTHING TO SOL-DIERS.-Yesterday M. A. Anele, who keeps a clothing store on Market street, was arrested for selling officers' clothing to soldiers. He was taken before the Provost Murshal, who, after examining his case, sentenced Ansle to ten days' confinement in the military prison. There is a very stringent order in regard to the selling of officers' clothing to private soldiers, and clothing dealers cannot be too particular as to whom they sell officers' clothing. Private soldiers, by obtaining officers clothing, have been able to impose upon not only our citizens, but slso upon the military authorities, and we are requested to state that the order in regard to the selling of clothing to soldiers will be rigidly enforced.

To-morrow night Mlss Leo Hudson will make her first appearance in the thrilling equestrian drama of Mazeppa. This lady omes to us highly recommended by the press of other eities, and she will no doubt become a great favorite here.

To-Morrow the Great Western Circus will arrive our midst. Among the things to come, its arrival was not unexpected. Flaming sheets of mammoth size, colored with every imaginable tlnt, with devices representing a thousand different styles of performance, are to be seen all over theelty. Little boys with a small sheet, half the size of a shingle, rowding through our most frequented thorough fares, announcing, wait for the Blg Circus. Large hand-bills, with the title of the company, names of the star performers, description of the trained horses and educated mules are to be found in all public and private houses. Trnly the coming of the great show is no mistake, but a fixed reality. The ammoth Silver Cornet Band, mounted on superb rses, led by the Wizard Cornellst, Herman Ludvig, will parade the principal streets on their arlval.

XXXVIIIth Congress-First Session Washington, April 16. SENATE.

Mr. Hend loks offered a resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to commuicate what regulations have been made for the isone of certificates of cost, and whether they are payable in coin or currency, and if the latter, what amounts have been issued. Mr. Howard introduced a resolution, which was modified as follows, and adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on the Conduct of the War be instructed to inquire into the truth of the slaughter of the troops at Fort Pillow, and whether the post could have been re enforced or evacuated, and that said comnittee be instructed to report as early as pos-Eminest speeches were made by Messrs. Howard, Wilcox, Johnson, Conness and Grimes, in favor of strict measures of retaliaon—man for man or two for one.

A Norwegian Dance.—Round the musician the young men and maidens formed a ring and began to dance. There was little taiking, and that little was in an undertone. They went to work with the utmost gravity and decorum Secretly a lugh was heard—nothing to a short during the whole approaching to a shout during the whoic night; nevertheless, they erjoyed themselves thoroughly—I have no doubt whatever of that. The nature of their dance was somewhat incomprehensible. It seemed as if the chief or ject of the young men was to exhibit their active by every species of imprompting the species of imprompting the species of the prompting the species of the prompting their active by every species of imprompting the species of the prompting the pr their agitity by every species of impromptu bound and fing of which the human frame is capable, including the rather desperate feat of dashing themselves fit upon the ground. The principal care of the girls seemed to be to The principal care of the girls seemed to be to keep out of the way of the men and avoid being killed by a frantic kick or lelled by a random blow. But the desperate features in each dance did not appear at first. Every man began by se zing his partner's hand, and dragging her around the circle—ever and amon twirling her around the waist with the other—in order, as it appeared to me, to save her from an untimely end. To this treatment the fair damsel submitted with pleased, though hashful, looks. But soon the men flung them off, and went in entirely on their a with the old sivile Grate; and last though not least. flung them off, and went in entirely on their own account; yet they kept up a sort of re-velving course round their partners like satvolving course round their partners like sate ellites round their partners like sate. The best of references and be furnished as to the true the satellites assumed some of the characteristics of the counet. They rushed about the circle in wild, erratic courses. They leaped into the air, and while in that position elapped the soles of their feet with both hards. Should any one deem this an easy feat, let bim try it. Then they became a little imore sane, and a waliz—or something like it—was got up. It was really pretty, and some of the movements were gracein; but the wind spirit of the glens re-entered the men rather suddenly. The ismales were expelled from the ring altogether, and the youths braced themselves for a little really heavy work. They flung and hurled themselves about like minkes, stood on their heads, and walked on their hands—in short, became a company of acrobate—yet always kept up a sympathetic feeling for time with the music.

Yest rolay seven negroes, bening respectively the names of Fowler Wilhams, Stechen Johnson, Joan Dorr, George Haves, Jacob Reid, Henry Scott, and R uben Alfred, were put on trial before Judge Atocha, in the Provest Court, for a double murder committed on the 27th of January last, within a short distance of Port Hudson. The prisoners were all contrabands, or camp followers, who resided in the neighborhood of the fort, and who appear to have gone ont together on a markeding expedition. According to the testimony, the force numbered eight or ten, all armed with guns, pistols, and other weapons. About daylight in the morning a volley of musketry was discharged at the farm-house of Mr. Neff, which is just a mile and a half from the fort. This awakened the innates, and a demand was made that all should come out at once and surrender. There appears to have been three men in the house, Mr. Neff, his son, and a stranger who was enjoying the hospitalities of the mansion for the night. The inmates held a consultation and got together such arms as they could find to use in their defense, determined to hold out as long as possible against the assallants. The stranger was the garret as the most No. 119 Jefferson st., bet. Fourth and Fifth, up-stairs, LOUISVILLE, KY. SARSAPARILLA FOR PURIFFING THE BLOOD

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Scres, Emptions, Pimples, Pustuice, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases. Blains, and all Skia Diseases.

ORLLIND, IND. 6th June, 1859

J. C. Ayres & Co.—Gents: I feel it my daty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Sciofulous infection. I have suffered from it I nyalous ways, for; years. Sometines it burstout in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Twi years ago it broke out on my head and covered my Scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without unch re-left from anything. In fact the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Grospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that anything you made must be good I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and nseil it till toured me. I took it, as yon advise, in smail doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skila soon began to iorin under the scalp, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, thist I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully.

After taking your remedeight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphifis and Mercurial Discase. New Obleans, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Aver-Sir: I cheerfully comply with the request of your axeut, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Veneraci and Meccaviat Discarse. One of my patients had Syphilling ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his month. Your Sarsaparilla, see will taken, cared him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary synctoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I be leve the disorder would soon reach his brink and hill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla, the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face.
